La Once Mil

“My favorite tacos. The room is fun, they hand you a beer when you walk in, and the Lomas original just earned a Michelin star. No reservations, so expect a line.”

Botánico

“Dinner in a botanical garden, basically: an old Condesa mansion’s courtyard, cacti everywhere. The tuna tostada is my favorite, the burger is amazing, and honestly so is everything else.”

Lalo

“By far my favorite Italian in town. Eduardo García turned his Roma brunch staple into a fresh-pasta room with an old-school feel, and I’m ordering the prosciutto before I even sit down. Save room for the tiramisu.”

Zacatecas 173, Roma Norte

El Silverio

“Amazing seafood and the biggest steak I’ve seen in Mexico City. A Condesa tapas bar and asador with the energy of a gastronomic pub, which is exactly the point.”

Fernando Montes de Oca 83, Condesa
